*"You may give your children your love but not your thoughts,
For they have their own thoughts. You may house their bodies but not their souls, For their souls dwell in the house of tomorrow."*

Thank you for giving us the ability to create our own to-morrows. Thank you for the love and understanding you gave us yesterday. Thank you for the love you will give us today and tomorrow. You have helped us complete the first of the many stages of life. You as parents/guardians have given us the wings and self assurance we need to go out into the world and succeed. More than that you have let us see the world through our own eyes and let us draw our own conclusions. It probably was not always easy to let us make our own decisions, but that is part of growing up, for both the child and the parent. By allowing us to form our own opinions and make our own decisions, you have given us the key to tomorrow.

Thank you

Jennifer M Maciver

The class of 1993 is the first class to go through Carver High School entirely, and also the last class to graduate from the Plymouth/Carver Regional program. This year we would like to recognize Mr. Erwin Washburn as one of the driving forces behind the development of Carver High School. In 1985, Mr. Washburn pushed the town to build their own high school and achieved it when the town broke ground in the winter of 1986. About two years later Carver students began school at Plymouth South, and then after many years of waiting, Carver opened its own high school in January, 1988.

Since 1988, Mr. Washburn has seen tremendous spirit within the school, by its students. The school was dedicated to Erwin Washburn in honor of his contributions to Carver and its students.

Faculty and Administration

TO THE CLASS OF 1993,

YOUR GRADUATION MARKS THE SIXTH ANNIVERSARY OF CARVER HIGH SCHOOL. DURING THIS TIME COLLECTIVELY AND INDIVIDUALLY YOU HAVE CONTINUED TO SUCCEED IN ALL AREAS OF SCHOOL LIFE. YOU HAVE ACHIEVED BOTH IN THE CLASSROOM AND IN EXTRACURRICULAR ENDEAVORS. YOU HAVE GROWN INTELLECTUALLY AND SOCIALLY. YOU HAVE ACCEPTED YOUR RESPONSIBILITY WITH PURPOSE AND DEDICATION. THE RICH TRADITIONS OF IMPROVEMENT, THE BENCH MARK OF CARVER HIGH SCHOOL, HAVE BEEN STRENGTHENED THROUGH YOUR "COMMITMENT TO EXCELLENCE." THE CLASS OF 1993 HAS PROVIDED WORTHY EXAMPLES FOR FUTURE STUDENTS.

MAY YOUR FUTURE BE CHARACTERIZED BY THE EXCELLENCE YOU HAVE ACHIEVED AT CARVER HIGH SCHOOL.

THOMAS M. LONG, PRINCIPAL
12/10/92

Time has passed and now we can recall those memories of our years at Carver High School; the good times and the bad, the work, the play, the setbacks and the accomplishments.

I hope that you will go out into this world and find the best in others and make the world a better place.

Rocco Palladino

To the Class of 1993,

You are the first graduating class to have spent six years as Carver High School students. Because you are the first, watching you grow from the seventh grade through your senior year has been a very special experience for me.

You are also the last class to graduate from Carver as students within the Plymouth/Carver Regional School District.

Your class was there at the beginning. Remember Plymouth South?

You had just learned to find all the rooms, and then it was time to move to our own school in Carver. Opening two brand new schools in one year is probably an experience shared by few.

Remember, you helped decide that we would be the Crusaders (and not the Cobras or the Cougars)?

You were there when the first sports teams took the field. You saw the first victories!

No other class can claim to have such a rich history or to have helped shape school traditions any more than your class.

What, I am sure, seemed impossible six years ago is now done. You have graduated from high school. Congratulations, and thanks for the memories!

TIMES THEY ARE A

The economy, jobs, education, health care, welfare, the deficit, Yugoslavia, Saddam Hussein, Somalia, the environment, and abortion all topics thrown around during the 1992 election. Democrat Arkansas Governor Bill Clinton ran on the issue of change in the government and the social structure. Republican President George Bush ran on promising a return to family values and his experience. Independent billionaire Ross Perot ran on reducing the deficit and returning the American dream to America.

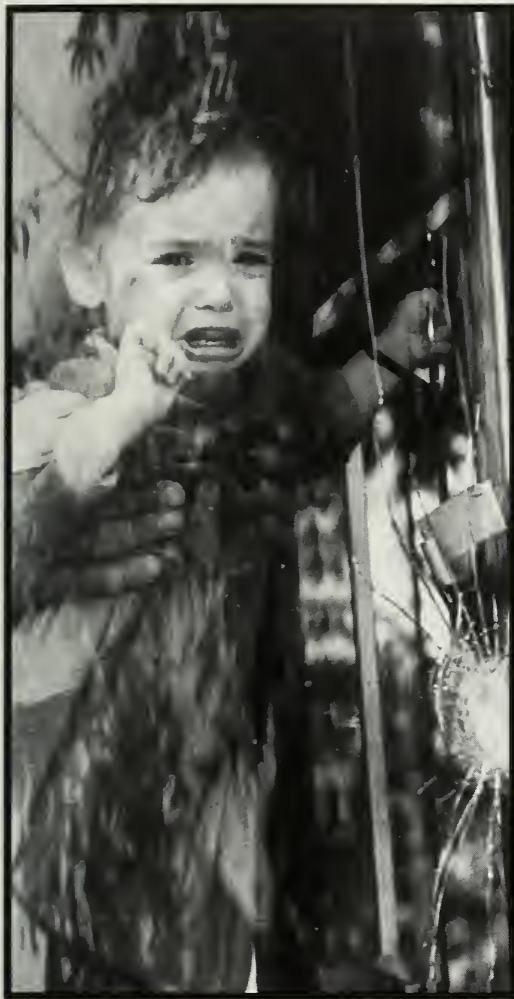

In the end the American public elected Bill Clinton and Al Gore to the White House by an overwhelming majority over the incumbent team of George Bush and Dan Quayle. Ross Perot did make an impact in the election by becoming the first third party candidate to get a significant number of popular votes, even though he did not get any votes in the electoral college.

In 1992 the Toronto Blue Jays became the first Canadian Baseball team to ever win the World Series. The Toronto Blue Jays beat the Atlanta Braves 4-3 in the 11th inning of the 6th game when Dave Winfield hit a double scoring two. The Braves did tie the game 2-2 in the 9th inning. The Braves only came up with one run in the 11th before Toronto ended their bid for a World Series win, making them the first team since the 1977-78 L.A. Dodgers to lose two consecutive World Series.

CHANGING

The territory of Yugoslavia for centuries was a battleground between the Austro-Hungarian and Ottoman empires.

In 1918, the Kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes was declared, and in 1929 it was renamed Yugoslavia. The new country was torn by demands for autonomy by Croats who opposed Serbian domination.

Of the 24 million people living there, Serbs account for about 36 percent and the Croats for about 20 percent of the population. Other Slav groups are the Slovenes, 8 percent; and the Montenegrins, 3 percent. Ethnic Albanians make up 9 percent of the population. This ethnic diversity has been a source of strife for centuries.

President Tito, who ruled from 1945 until his death in 1980, kept a tight lid on these internal ethnic rivalries. Since his death, however, central power has been eaten away by the feuding republics.

Inhabitants of the territory are confronted daily by the shelling, sniper fire and death of war. They take to the streets during the occasional cease fire, pushing and shoving, trying to buy bread and other staples necessary to live.

The war left thousands of dead has sent more than a million fleeing and led to the creation of dreaded detention camps, likened to those of Nazi Germany.

A TIME TO ACT

On August 24, 1992 Hurricane Andrew struck southern Florida causing an estimated $20 billion in damage, and went on to hit Louisiana where it caused an estimated $1.5 billion in damage. The hurricane lasted for 54 hours during which thousands of people lost their homes. The destruction was so bad that the army and marines were called in to help with the clean up and supply food and tents to the thousands of uprooted families.

Hurricane Andrew was followed by Hurricane Iniki that hit Kauai Hawaii on September 11, 1992. The destruction was not as major on Kauai as it was in Florida and Louisiana, but buildings were destroyed and other were damaged.

Three months after the world woke up to one of the worst famines in history, food started to reach hundreds of thousands of Somalis. Estimates of the dead range from 100,000 to half a million, but no one knows just how many have perished in the Horn of Africa nation.

The central Bay region of the country has been most affected. It served as the main battleground for clans fighting for supremacy after Siad Barre's ouster. Consequently, its harvests were most disrupted and its people most uprooted and displaced and left in great jeopardy.

More than a million Somalis have fled their homeland for refugee camps in neighboring countries, with the wealthier ones seeking safe haven in Europe, the United States, Canada and elsewhere.

Central Somalia is where the international community has concentrated its relief efforts, with airlifts to the towns of Belet Huen, Baidoa, Bardera and Hoddur, and airdrops to smaller villages in the region.

Many have died in the factional fighting that has driven the nation since former leader Siad Barre's ouster. Casualty estimates range from conservative figures of 10,000 to the 60,000 estimated by the human rights group Africa Watch.

I'd like to thank Joe, Brendon, Bree, Jayme, Jenn, Rich, Lane, etc., and my family for being there for me throughout the Carver Experience. I will always remember — They Might Be Giants, a barbecued chicken, lots of bee's, a Vegetarian named Eric (who had a personalized Swiss army knife), a parking ticket, Hubba Hubba's, keys on the otherside of a locked glass window, coat hangers, handmade jimmy bars, and — 20 dollars. All I want to do in life is sell all of my possessions, move high into the mountains and live off the land, and be happy. People who do what they feel, say what they feel, and exist for the moment truly live life. — Wendy's — And lastly, to Joe, "happy birthday" for all of those I've missed.

Don't Quit

When things go wrong as they sometimes will,
When the road you're trudging seems all uphill,
When the funds are low and the debts are high,
And you want to smile, but you have to sigh,

When care is pressing you down a bit,
Rest if you must, but don't you quit!

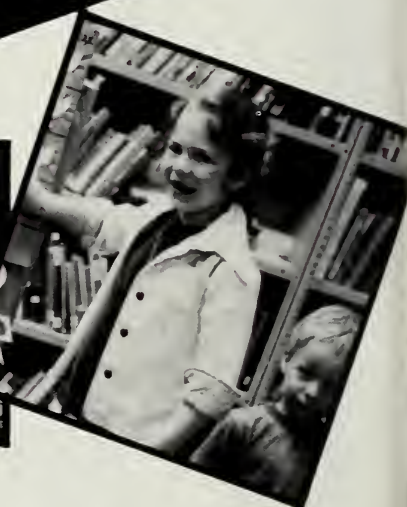

Life is queer with its twists and turns,
As everyone of us sometimes learns,
And many a failure turns about
When we might have won had we stuck it out.

Don't give up though the pace seems slow -
You may succeed with another blow.

Success is failure turned inside out,
The silver tint of the clouds of doubt,
And you can never tell how close you are,
It may be near when it seems so far;

So stick to the fight when you're hardest hit,
It's when things seem worst that you must not quit!

Remember Us . . .

*Smiling through the centuries
Holding out our hands
We had something special
Conquering foreign lands*

*Not a day would go by
Where we weren't together
Making plans for our lives
We were friends forever.*

*So much time has gone,
where are the days?
We were once children
innocent in our ways.*

*Discovering ourselves and each other
When we used to play
Telling secrets, poking fun
I miss that day.*

*We are so much older now
No longer young
Sometimes I remember
Words we had sung.*

*You are all special
My very best of friends
I'll love you all
Till the final end.*

BLOOD DRIVE

The Red Cross Blood Drive sponsored by the Senior Class has been another success. As in past years, this year's goal of blood donors has been met and surpassed through the overwhelming support of the community, staff members, and students. This year the Blood Drive has a total of 74 donors who gave a pint of their blood to those in need of their blood. With the help of Blood Drive Committee workers: Peter Murphy, Jill Kulbok, Michelle Cooney, Jenna Hammond, and Jen Santagate; along with Tri-Chairmen Amy Herf, Liz Boucher, and Nathan Cole, they have made the Blood Drive an enthusiastic project in which they gave of their time to help others. This is a cause in which all people who can should participate in. Give a pint of yourself and you may save a LIFE.

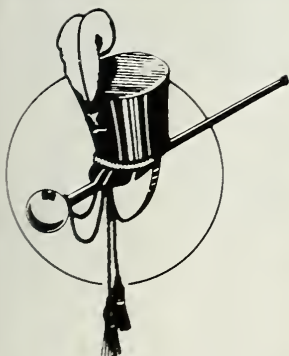

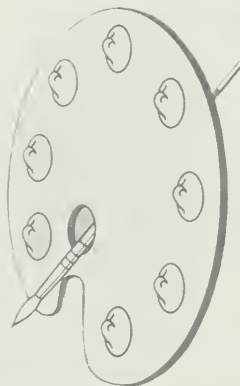

CULTURE

This year our school has gained a different feeling of culture with the arrival of two exchange students from Japan, and Russia. Asako Yamanaka, a Senior, has come from Kamakora, Japan. She has gotten involved in the Drama Club and has made many new friends. From Russia, this year, we have gotten the pleasure of knowing Tim Zibaidullin. Tim is a junior and comes from Kazan, Russia. Tim was a member of the Chess Club.

We have learned plenty about these two cultures, and they have learned about ours first hand. Hopefully, we have made friendships that will last for many years.

National

To be inducted into the National Honor Society is a great honor. You must maintain a specific grade average and be an exemplary person in and out of school.

This year's National Honor Society Members are:

The Class of 93: E. Boucher, A. Choder, D. Confar, S. Fenelon, S. Gillert, J. Haigh, A. Herf, J. Keenaghan, J. Lyonnais, J. MacIver, K. McDermott, P. Murphy, E. Murray, A. Perry, N. Rosenberger, J. Ryan.

The Class of 94: K. Arabie, E. Casey, A. Colagiovanni, J. Duffy, J. Emord, J. Fenelon, M. Grimes, M. Huntstiger, B. Kelly, J. Libby, S. McGillicudy, J. Norton, B. Rolfe, R. Seamans, H. Shaughnessy, H. Sullivan, D. Ward, M. Webster.

HMUN

On Thursday December 10, 1992, students led by advisor Gary Lincoln, participated in the 1992 Harvard Model United Nations. This year Carver represented, Albania, Romania, and Chad. They were led by head delegates, Jen MacIver, Pam Fontaine, and Wendy Olson. They met in Boston with thousands of other students, to discuss and resolve some of the world's most controversial issues. It was an excellent opportunity for students to learn how the world operates. They stayed at the Sheraton Towers Hotel in the heart of the city. They had such privileges as a midnight curfew with long meetings, and full reign of the city in a snow storm. The scenario was a breeding ground for politicians, and other students with their lap top computers, so the competition was there, but we managed to pass resolutions and make our voices heard! Overall it was an experience, and a wonderful one.

RE LEAF

In order to respond to the current environmental situation, Releaf was formed last year. Since then it has grown to be a progressive force in protecting and preserving Carver's environment. It has set up school wide recycling and raised money to aid Carver's Recycling Committee. Releaf's goal is to set an example of environmental responsibility for future generations to follow. The key to restoring the earth lies in its children.

"Oh, Mother, Father, your blindness to our most beautiful gift NATURE leaves us with the overwhelming task of correcting your utter mess. It also proves that you are no judge of art, nor of beauty . . ."

The Carver high school Drama Club is an astounding group of actors and actresses, with remarkable talent. The group, led by advisor Mary McNeil, has had an excellent reputation in performance, and this year they continue to keep their well-respected reputation in the performing arts. They began the year with a performance of "Our Town," directed by Bree Rolfe. At this play they turned the CHS auditorium into Grovers Corners New Hampshire, and did a wonderful job. Portraying each character perfectly. The next play for the Drama Club is William Shakespeare's, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," directed by Wendy Olson. The Drama club is under direction by producers: Kim Arabie, Luke Dand, Pam Fontaine, Dawn Gillig, Melissa John, Asa Leighton, Wendy Olson, Robin Rapoza, Bree Rolfe, Heather Robinson, Jesse Sullivan, Tristan Walsh.

Chess Club

Yearbook — Chess Club Article

Carver's Chess Club meets throughout the year and is open to all students from the seventh through twelfth grade. The school administration has made it possible for members to meet during selected study periods during the school day so that they may also participate in after-school activities.

Club members compete for a place on the Chess Team which consists of the top five players and several alternates. The team is part of the Southeast Massachusetts Chess League which includes teams in area high schools. Last year, our club's first, our team won second place in league competition and also took second place in the Regional Team-of-Four meet.

This year the team got off to a good start winning their first match against Wareham. They went on to defeat Coyle-Cassidy and Martha's Vineyard in two double headers. The Vineyard team has been the league winner for the past six years. As this article is being written, half way through the season, the team is undefeated.

Members and alternates of this year's team are Jason Anshewitz, Isaac Banks, Ben Hoge, Chris Lodge, Chris Paradise, Tim Paradise, and Steve Venckus.

CRUSADER GUARD

Mellenie Brailey, Stacey Flinn, Michelle Loto, Meredith Casey, Hannah Blanchard, Heather Robinson, Michelle Habeeb, Kerri Asiaf, Annie Holzman, Alisa Lyford, Erin Kennedy, Sandy Fenelon, Missy Shaw, Kim Arabie.

The Crusader Color Guard is a precision marching unit, incorporating music and colorguard choreography. Flags, uniform and costumes, are used for visual designs, and special effects. The Guard trains through the year with organizer and designer Eileen Holzman, an instructor with over twenty years experience. This year the Crusader Guard participated in Winter Color Guard competitions, U Mass Band Day, local parades and the Thanksgiving Day field show here at Carver High School.

CRUSADER

The Crusader Band always tries to stay involved in school and community activities and strives to achieve a well-balanced sound. The Band has performed at various functions throughout the year. Highlights include: Labor Day Parade in Humarock; Band Day at the University of Massachusetts, Amherst; Carver VFW; and the Carver Memorial Day Parade. The Band also performed two seasonal concerts and many school-related activities such as Pep Rallies and football games.

Seniors Liz Boucher and Marc Emond collaborated to write the first field show. Senior Tristan Walsh took charge of the Thanksgiving game half-time field show and even the wet weather couldn't stop us. He and Senior Meci Gomes are members of the Carver HS Saxophone Quartet. Marc Emond's exceptional talent on trumpet earned him distinction at local and district levels.

All the Crusader Band members with great future success to the Class of '93.

Student Council 1992-1993

Carver High School's Student Council has been recognized as a five star council, the state's brightest award for excellence. In November, Carver hosted the Southeastern Regional Student Council Convention, over three hundred delegates were in attendance. The convention received high praise from councils across southern Massachusetts.

Carver High School Student Council has been active in the community. The council donated in excess of three hundred dollars to purchase and distribute toys to Carver's needy. The council also funded the ABC² start-up program. Through its officers Nathan Cole, Justin Haigh, Alan Shaw, and Karyn Saunders the student council has made tremendous strides.

The senior class of Carver High has a sense of humor. A sick, twisted sense of humor, but a sense of humor nonetheless — one that has been improving with all the years we've spent together — a sardonic humor that we've kept to ourselves.

Sometimes we've had to cover up our laughter with coughs or the old clearing of the throat trick. After all, it's more fun, keeping our own private jokes.

And like every other graduating class we've had our share of them. You see evidence of them year after year as classes graduate recited in the "Remember When's." You see them daily when one hand signal starts off peels of laughter. Or when one abstract word (BARUMPH) makes someone laugh out loud, sometimes at the most inopportune times (like during a lecture!)

Why this need for laughter? Why do we feel this great urge to laugh at anything, at anyone, at any expense? Maybe it's as simple as the fact that we need a diversion. Or maybe it's not that simple. Maybe it goes further than that. We're laughing while we're still together because we know our time (together) is running out.

We want to "let the good times roll." We want to remember our senior year as one filled with laughter. We all know how stressful school can be, but we also know that school can be (GASP!) fun. And what better way to show our school spirit than by telling our private jokes and by poking fun at each other down the hallways?

School is more than academics. It goes beyond the notes and the test taking. It's about spending years in the same classes together, dealing with the same tests, teachers and everyday life of Carver High. It's about finding humor to cope. And most importantly, it's about making friends for life.

Sex, drugs, and alcohol. Did I get your attention? Good, now read what I have to say about these things — it could save your own or your friend's life.

Everywhere we look these things are occurring. We gossip in the hallways on Monday morning about who slept with who over the weekend. We still see people smoking cigarettes in our bathrooms, and smoking pot at parties. And no matter how many times we read about drinking and driving accidents, there are still teenagers having a few beers and then getting behind the wheel.

We teenagers really do think we're invincible. What is it that makes us so arrogant and so ignorant? Do we rally believe that if we have unprotected sex we won't get AIDS, STD's, or pregnant? Do we not realize that drugs and alcohol KILL our brain cells? Do we just happen to skip over the section in the local paper about the 17-year-old boy that was in an alcohol-related accident, and remained in a coma for a week?

No! No! No! It's just that we like to pretend we're indestructible. We hear the health teachers warning about lung cancer and gonorrhea. We go to the assemblies with the three big screens and the loud music. We see some of the most respected and "popular" kids in the school applying to drug and alcohol free organizations such as SADD and peer leadership.

We just must not care. It's not that contracting a disease that destroys our immune system and deteriorates, or being paralyzed from the neck down for life doesn't scare us. We just haven't had enough experience in our short lives for this reality to sink in.

What is it going to take for us to realize that we are only human beings — mortal human beings that can and will DIE if we do not change our ways. No matter how many times Mrs. Lynch or Mr. Farrell tell us how sex, drugs, and alcohol destroy lives, there will still be some of us too stubborn or too stupid to listen. We've got to make our decisions based on what we believe. The school has given us the knowledge and the ability to make healthy decisions. It's now up to us to choose — literally between life and death!

And don't forget that peer pressure isn't necessarily a bad thing. We can work together as fellow students to save each other's lives. This is not a game! Before we lose our first student to AIDS, to drinking and driving, or to a drug-related death let's wake up and face the situation.

"If you're not part of the solution, you're part of the problem." Tell your friend he/she is running a huge risk by having sex at all, but that if they are going to choose to have sex they should stay with the same partner and always use a condom — the "safest sex" aside from the only true safe sex — abstinence. Tell your friend he/she will DIE if they drive after drinking. Take the keys away yourself. Get your friend the number of a counselor or a drug abuse hot-line if you even suspect they might be using drugs.

Not doing anything is not being a friend. Don't be afraid to "Just Say No!" I'm sure you've heard that a thousand times before but it does work. Not everyone is having sex, drinking, or doing drugs. You don't have to follow the crowd — especially if the crowd is destroying their lives.

Most importantly, it is still very possible to have a whole lot of fun without any of these things. Enjoy your high school years without running the risk of ending them.

ALISM

The United States judicial system recently suffered a tremendous loss due to the death of Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall. Justice Marshall served almost a quarter-century on the Supreme Court and contributed to many causes for the downtrodden, the imprisoned, and the defenseless. He died at the age of 84. "He's Mr. Civil Rights, a tremendous hero to lots of people, but especially to Black Americans. I would bet that in some way, any and every black attorney has been influenced by him," boasts a man Randall Kennedy, a Harvard law professor and former law clerk for Marshall.

According to Toni House, spokesperson for the Supreme Court, Justice Marshall died of heart failure. Right after Marshall retired from the Supreme Court in July of 1991, his health has been failing him.

Justice Marshall championed causes forgotten and overlooked by many, and truly believed in the underdog in such cases as the rights of inmates, excessive punishment, and underprivileged women's rights to an abortion. Marshall contributed many precedents, opinions, and binding decisions from which pertinent decisions that affect us today.

As a civil rights lawyer before his appointment to the court, Justice Marshall's most celebrated case was Brown v. Board of Education, which he argued before the Supreme Court. The court's landmark 1954 ruling outlawed public school segregation and put to rest forever the "separate but equal doctrine." This case was the centerpiece of an era in which the civil rights movement found progress toward equality through the federal courts. It used the Constitution to force desegregation of a range of institutions from interstate busses to schools.

In 1972 in Furman v. Georgia, the Supreme Court struck down state death penalty laws. Marshall, in a concurring opinion, said, "There is but one conclusion that can be drawn from the history of capital punishment: The death penalty is an excessive and unnecessary punishment that violates the Eighth Amendment."

In 1974 in the Court case Procunier v. Martinez, the court limited the power of prison officials to censor inmates' mail. Marshall, in a concurring opinion, said: "Whether an O. Henry authoring his short story in a jail cell or a frightened young inmate writing his family, a prisoner needs a medium for self-expression."

In 1980 in Harris v. McRae, the Court said the federal government and the state do not have to fund abortions for poor women. Marshall, in dissent, said: "An indigent woman denied government funding for a medically necessary abortion is confronted with two grotesque choices. She may seek to obtain an illegal abortion that poses a serious threat to her health and even her life. Alternatively, she may attempt to bear a child, a course that may both significantly threaten her health and eliminate any chance she might have had to control the direction of her own life."

On June 27, 1991, the day Marshall announced his retirement, the Court in Payne v. Tennessee permitted so-called victim-impact evidence to help prosecutors seeking death sentences. Marshall, in dissent, said: "Cast aside today are those condemned to face society's ultimate penalty. Tomorrow's victims may be minorities, women, or the indigent."

Justice Marshall's death ends the career of a man who, with the possible exception of Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., has had more influence on the lives of blacks and other minorities than any other person of his time. But Justice Marshall's influence went far beyond the boundaries of black Americans and he came to be a spokesperson for the imprisoned and disenfranchised, the powerless and the destitute, those in society least able to help themselves against the powers of the majority.

What does the election of Bill Clinton mean to this country? Clinton has many new ideas and plans, like every new president-elect, and if he can turn these plans into action he could revitalize the economy and give the country a change it desperately needs. Any new president could do this, and all of them try. Will Clinton be able to make it work? Will he continue to keep his promises after the first 100 days? Or will he shed the ideals the American people have put on him right along with his campaign promises? No one can say.

Clinton is also getting mixed reviews from leaders and citizens of foreign countries. Countries in crisis, like war-torn Croatia and third-world Indonesia are acclaiming Clinton in the hope that he will be a catalyst for major changes. Croatians are calling him "a new Kennedy," according to a columnist sent here to cover the election, and Indonesians feel that he would bring "a new spirit to America and the world," while the French businessman expresses his country's views, saying "We don't know Clinton, but he looks like exactly what we in France are rejecting — more spending, more government."

A 55-year-old Boston homeless man feels that Clinton can do a lot for the country, and to help the homeless. "I firmly believe he has the power and the will to bring it all together. He could be the next John F. Kennedy."

For the country, after 12 years of Reagan-Bush economics, Clinton does have a lot of promise. However, the question of what Clinton can do for us, high school students, remains. Clinton has one plan in particular that is getting generally favorable, though mixed, reviews. This plan calls for loans to be given to college students, to be paid back with community service. A good idea, it would be difficult to implement but wonderful if it succeeded. Clinton also supports reforms that could revitalize the entire public education system.

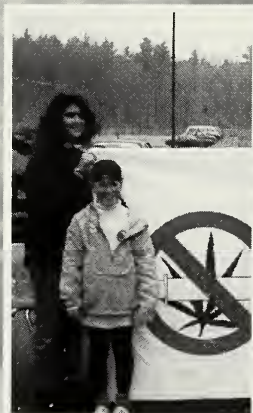

Can Clinton live up to these expectations? That remains to be seen. All we can do is wait to see, and hope that Bill Clinton, president-elect, has what it takes to re-unite this country and see it through four tough years.

FRIENDS DON'T LET FRIENDS

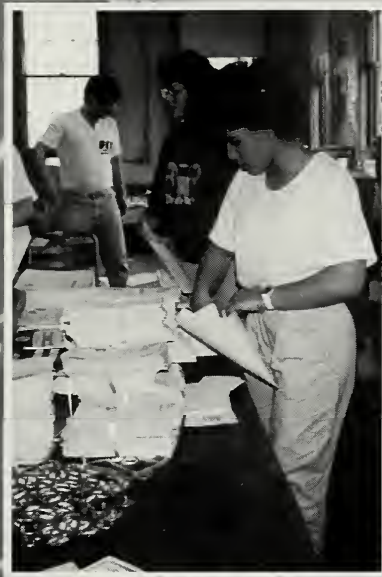

S.A.D.D. has been one of the most successful organizations here at the Carver High School. The chapter has been recognized nationally on many occasions, such as, the 1990 and 1991 National S.A.D.D. conferences when Carver S.A.D.D. was chosen to represent the state at the conferences.

Each year Carver S.A.D.D. sponsors a 10 mile walkathon. This is by far, S.A.D.D.'s most successful event with over 100 walkers each year.

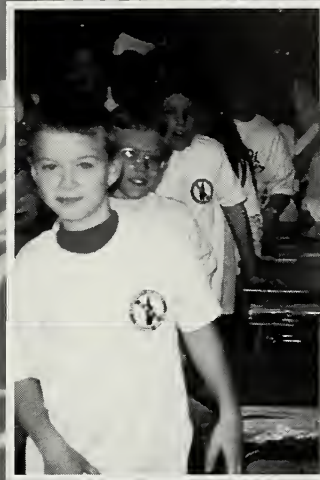

This year Carver S.A.D.D. sponsored a magic show performed by illusionists Jeff O'Leary and Carol Krysti of Magic Touch Entertainment. The show dealt with the dangers of drugs and alcohol and it was a huge success. S.A.D.D. also held a T-shirt contest where students designed logo's to be shown on a T-shirt. Prize money was awarded to winners Marc Farrell and Gregg McClay.

PEERLEADERSHIP

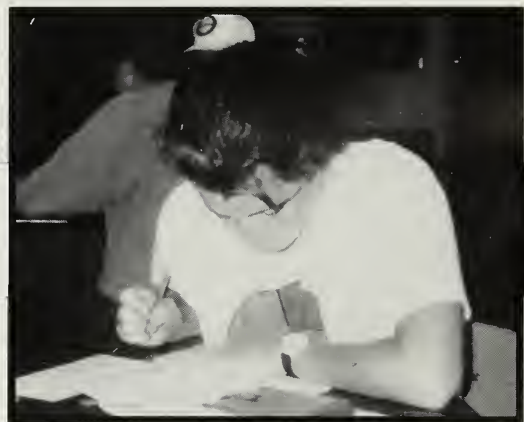

Senior Peerleaders

This year's Junior and Senior Peerleadership programs have continued to grow with over 100 kids in the two groups. Under the caring eye of advisor Ruth Lynch the Peerleaders continue their helpful service to both Carver High School and the town of Carver. As Peerleaders they agree to be drug, alcohol, and tobacco free and leaders both inside and outside the classroom. This year the Peerleaders have done many things. They have gone to the Governor John Carver to help the elementary school teachers and to speak with the students. They hosted the annual alumni breakfast where students that have graduated came to speak to the seniors. Through the hard work of some Peerleaders a successful tutoring program was established. Peerleaders provide valuable assistance throughout the school and the town of Carver.

Unity Is Through

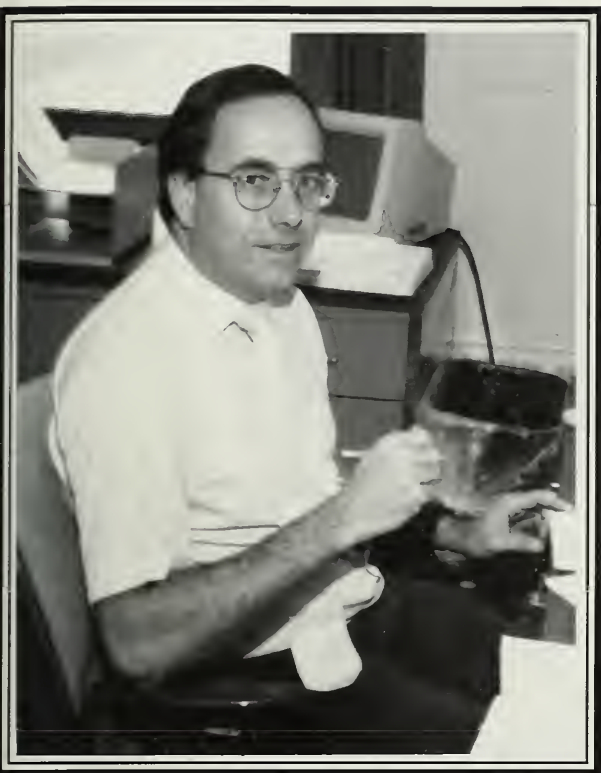

The name UNITED was recently adopted by the multicultural group. It is an acronym which summarizes the group's philosophy. It stands for "Unity Is Through Embracing Diversity." Simply put, we reject the concept of the melting pot or a color-blind society. We feel that there is beauty and strength in our uniqueness.

Sensitivity is increased with education and communication. To foster communication we host a monthly dialogue in a relaxed atmosphere where all are free to discuss their opinions on selected topics. The group seeks to educate through displays and special programs.

We shall miss the energy and creativity of seniors Meclina Gomes and Kirk Hoehl who have helped to lay the foundation of the group.

Embracing Diversity

“Putting It All Together”

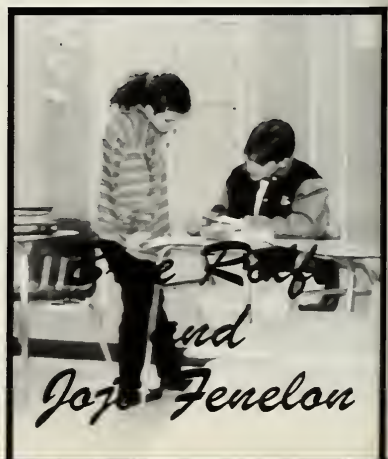

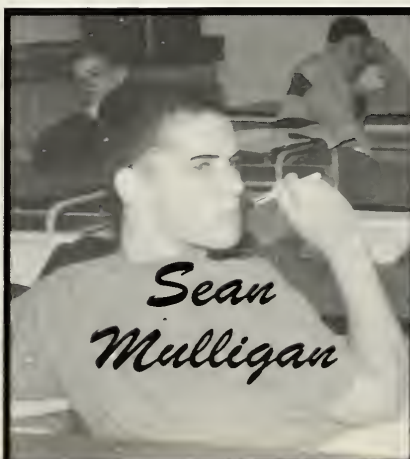

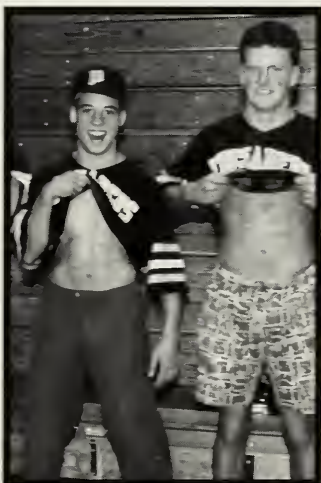

As every Senior knows; past, present, and future, one begins to live in guidance. Between looking for colleges, writing applications, and dealing with acceptances and rejections, we have come to rely on the assistance of our guidance counselors. Mr. Noyes and Mrs. McCarthy have been there for us for years, but it is now, under this time of pressure, that we learn what they are there for. Even though we, as seniors rarely say it, we are grateful for your help and assistance in our pursuit of continuing our education and in our future. We also like to thank Mrs. Kiersted for typing and organizing our applications.

GUIDANCE

The Junior Class

The Junior Class has been quite successful this year. Starting off the year, we sold colorful CHS Boxer Shorts. During the Holiday Season, we held a candy cane sale. Also, to help the community, we sponsored a can drive in which the whole school participated in. Our most successful activity was the Carnation Sale held the week of Valentine's Day. Now, with the M&M sale in progress, we are looking forward to a night to be remembered — The Prom.

"FOCUS"

The all-time high of 49 girls showed up for the 92 season on August 28th. Led by returning varsity seniors Jenn MacIver, April Duncan, Amy Muscato, Sandi Fenelon, and Tori Sturtevant. The girls struggled for a 3-10-5 overall record. Tori Sturtevant and Amy Muscato received post-season South Shore League All-Star recognition. Other seniors on this year's squad were Linda Fein, Lori Rinella, and Kara McDermott.

The Crusader's defense was led by Sophomore goalie Kerry Leary, who faced 270 shots and gave up 37 goals for a 2.17 GAA. The leading scorers were Amy Muscato's 5 goals and 7 assists for 12 points and April Duncan's 6 goals and 5 assists for 11 points. Other goal scorers were Freshmen Jen Connolly with five goals, Tori Sturtevant with 1 goal and 4 assists with a total of five points, Kym Shorey with 2 goals and 1 assist for 3 points. Other single point getters were Cyndy Duncan, Sandy Smolinsky, Leah Wohlander, and Kate Murphy.

With the numbers returning for next season, The "Lady Stickers" hope to rebound and return to the top of the South Shore League.

Led by captains Corey Butler, Toby Giovannetti, and Tom Walsh, the Varsity Boys Soccer team achieved some of their goals including improving upon last year's record. New assistant coach John Tocci provided the team with his expertise of soccer. Leading goal scorer Corey Butler headed the offensive attack while Mark Daly and Toby Giovannetti led the Diamond Defense with Alan Shaw in net.

Although the Crusader Soccer team had a slow start, they ended the season in grand fashion with a win over Scituate and come from behind tie with tournament-bound Abington. Other seniors helping the cause were Mike Burdziuk, John Sullivan, and Alan Farquharson.

"TODAY PLAY LIKE A CHAMPION"

Jarrett Helms — Q.B.

This year's Crusaders football team finished second in the South Shore League with an overall record of 8-2, the best record ever posted by a Carver football team. Led by a small band of determined seniors (Capt. Jarrett Helms, Capt. Mike Phillippo, Doug Place, Jed Haigh, Rob Rooney, Paul Jones, and John Russell), this team played with pride, desire, intensity, and courage. They knew what it took to win and they worked hard to achieve their goals. They started in the summer months at Gold's Gym, had their first scrimmage in the rain against a Super Bowl team (Martha's Vineyard), lost a tough opening game to another Super Bowl team (Hull), but there was no let up. Their work level intensified and they defeated a huge and talented team from Southeastern, in the rain. The season continued with victories over Scituate, Norwell, Cohasset, E.B., Norton, and Abington. The only other loss came against Hanover, but the game was touted by reporters as one of the most outstanding games of the year. The season ended as it had started in the rain and mud, with a dominating win over neighboring town Middleboro. This game displayed all the intense emotions of the seniors as everyone of them gave everything they had to insure a victory in their last game in a Crusader uniform. The offense set a school record helping Angus rush for 330 yards and five TDs, and the defense had the first Turkey Day shut out. The seniors have great memories from this season: doubles, the mile, beasts, four corners, "Fourth Quarter," K.B. and T.D.'s smooth lines on the ferry to M.V., Dougie's antics at Southeastern, Who is Knute Rockne? Ask Angus, Psycho's spike, Bird's TD reception, beating E.B. at E.B. (sweet), Helms to Helms, KB running into the door when BM was running off copies for the team's quote of the day, Sirrico's response to Farrell's artwork, S.L. "How do it know?", Coach Green's laugh, M.P. beating up the Kodak team, P.J. Bullseye Award. Good luck seniors, you matured as individuals and helped a young team grow closer together. Remember Jarrett's words on Turkey Day, and in your life remember the last words you saw leaving the locker room. "Full Speed" "Today play like a champion" I hope you had fun this year, I did, thank you.

GIRLS SOCCER

Girls Soccer 1992-1993

The Girls Soccer Team finished at 4-13-1. The team was constantly improving and lost 7 games by one goal. The team was led by Senior Captains Kerry Carbone and all star Karyn Saunders. Next year's team will be trying to make the state tournament for the first time.

THE THINGS DREAMS

ARE MADE OF . . .

BOYS X-COUNTRY TEAM

The Carver High School Boys Cross Country team had a great season finishing second in the league (4-2) behind undefeated East Bridgewater (6-0). Carver's only two league losses came by a total of 3 points and the future of the Boys Cross Country team looks very promising for next year. South Shore League All-Star for the second year in a row, Junior Chris Speakman, (4th best runner in the South Shore League) was Carver's top runner and next year he will have the opportunity to lead Carver to challenge for the South Shore League Crown. Senior Mike DiCarlo, a solid Cross Country Runner for the past 4 seasons will be missed but Sophomore Adam Holmes and Junior Pat Kenneally look like they are ready to step forward and be solid leaders next season. Other Sophomores who are also good runners include, Andrew Holmes, Robert Cottam and David Emord. Combine the high school runners with our junior high runners (8th) Danny Collins (who broke the new course record 16:51), (8th) Andrew Lopes and (8th) Chris Paradise and you have 8 solid runners looking to challenge for the top spot in the South Shore League next year. (Other members of the team included Matt Bain, Leon Harris, Greg Weydt, Eric Clay, Joe Collins, Matt Walsh, Nate Horrigan and Preston Beadling.)

GIRLS X-COUNTRY TEAM

The girls Cross Country team finished third in the South Shore League with a 3-3 record but Carver had the number 2 runner in the league, a 9th grader, Linda Farnham. Linda, running Cross Country for the first time, has made believers out of everyone in the League by improving her effort and time each week. She has won medals in the Bay State Invitational, Apponequet Invitational, South Shore Principals Meet, All-League Meet, the State Coaches Meet, and the State Class Meet and is Carver High School's first cross-country runner to qualify to run in the Mass. State Cross Country Finals. (Linda also set a new course record on the 2.9 mile — 19:39.) Another good runner, Junior Tara Macuch gave Carver High School a great 1-2 punch and together next year they will lead the young Carver High School team on a search for the South Shore League crown. Other runners contributing to the 1992 success of the team included (9th) Kerri Luca, (8th) Sheri DiCarlo, (7th) Robyn Lydon, (7th) Lahny Silva, (7th) Kim Howland and (7th) Tiffany Duval. Just like the boys' team, the girls' team will have 8 solid runners ready to toe the starting line next year. (Other members of the girls' team included Corrine Wynott, Suzanne Sinkey, Colleen McGillicuddy, Liz Gilchrist.)

The Lady Crusaders ended with a record of 8-13 this season which is an improvement over the previous years. Led by Sophomore Kate Murphy who averaged points a game. Senior Capt. Erin Murray was the second leading scorer averaging 6 points a game. Sophomore Julie Kinan did an outstanding job at the point position and Freshman Eran Coyne (missed 1st 8 games to injury) played outstanding in the post and dominated the boards. Amy Holmes was also a force on the boards. The outside shooting and aggressive defense of Meg Webster, Suzanne Sinkey and Kerry Leary helped the Crusaders win many victories. Sr. Capt. Amy Muscato played excellent both offensively and defensively. The Crusaders will be losing two valuable seniors to graduation but with much of the squad returning and because of the improvement at the J.V. and 8th grade levels the Crusaders are looking for a lot more again next year.

1993 GYMNASTICS

The sounds and cries of a team and the crowd cheering, then silence comes over the gymnasium. It is that one person's time to show what they can do. Again, the crowd become enthusiastic with the cries of cheering. One would first think that this is describing a free throw shot at a basketball game, but it isn't. We are talking about Carver High School's extraordinary Gymnastics team.

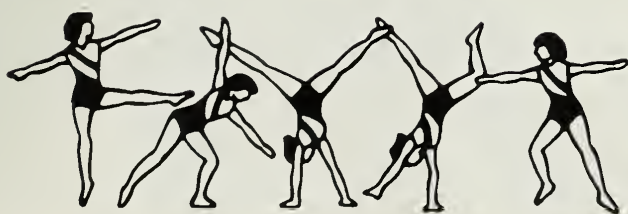

This year the gymnastics team, coached by Ky Thibtaut was led by Senior Captains Michelle Cooney, Leslie Whittaker, and April Duncan, along with juniors Molly Huntstiger, and Megan Cook.

This is also the first time Michelle Cooney, Megan Cook, April Duncan, and Leslie Whittaker all qualified for the South Sectionals meet, and April Duncan was the first to continue into the state finals. All records have been broken.

1992-93 Boy's Basketball

For what was expected to be a rebuilding year for Carver after the loss of five starters last season, the Crusaders, led by Captains Rob Rooney and Alan Shaw, along with Senior Rookie Jarrett Helms who added a pleasant surprise to the Carver Attack, put together some exciting Basketball and posted a very successful 10-10 record.

Undeclassmen Tony Demeo, Mike Furtado, Matt Henderson, Leon Harris, Kane Thomas, and Brian Helms improved with each game in helping Carver win their last 6 out of 8 Basketball games. With a solid returning nucleus, the Crusaders are looking forward to an exciting season of Basketball next year.

The wrestling team took home first place in the Pittsfield Holiday Tournament. The team was aggressive even though there were many injuries. Despite staying in a deserted cabin in the wilderness, it was a weekend that they would not ever forget.

Captain Tom Walsh is the only senior on this powering team. He has had many tough opponents in his stacked weight-class. With his endurance, he has been able to overcome his opponents to lead the team to a victory. His record for the season is 21-3.

Jen, Gina, & Naida,

I am very pleased to have been given the chance to get the chance to know you all so well. We were total strangers at the beginning of this year, and it delights me to be able to say that you were all very pleasant to me, and that I felt very welcome with you around me. The transition was not very difficult once I got to know you, and it wasn't hard for me to feel as though you guys wanted me to belong. I may not be the easiest person to get along with all of the time, but for some reason there is always at least one of you who will listen to me complain. For this and many other things I would like to thank you all and wish you the best of luck in your future, because without you around who knows where we would all be today. I love you all, and you better keep in touch with me.

Jen, Christine, & Naida,

If I had a nickel, no a penny for every happy memory you have given me I would be the richest person I know. Although I have been unbearable at times you all have beared with me the entire time. You have been the sunshine on my happy days, and the rainbow on my sad days. Thank you very much for everything, I wish you all the very best because that is what you deserve.

To my 3 Amigas,

You each have given me more than I could ever possibly give back. You have made me smile when I wanted to cry. You have listened to me when I needed someone to hear me, and I love you for it.

To Naida — I give you my nuns to share, I give you memories of Jesse and one phone call, I give you answers for when you're confused — and I give you my friendship always.

To Christine — I give you a game of pool, I give you a tour of Middleboro, I give you late nights of watching those movies — and I give you my love forever.

To Gina — What can I say? I give you letters to read, I give you those songs to sing (in the rain), I give you directions around Rotary's — and I give you my thanks forever!

Jen, Christine, and Gina,

I'll never forget this year, my senior year. You three were the answer to my prayers. You helped me get through this tough year with a whole lot of laughs, some tears, and a whole lot of fun. 5-D lunch in the upstairs library will always be something I'll cherish. You were always there when I needed to scream or to laugh. I'm not always the nicest person on some days, but you were able to see past that and allow me to be myself, but not too much. Thanks.

To Jen — Thanks for being here for all of those years. You were always there to sympathize, cheer me up, or make me blush. I'll never forget how much you've done to help me get through this year. You'll always be able to count on me. I promise.

To Christine — Even though you just moved in you meshed with our group and fit in perfectly. With you I can be as silly and immature as I want, and you don't care. Never forget us we won't forget you!

To Gina — We'll always have Model U.N. and Au Bon Pain. Don't forget it. You were able to temper me when I got out of hand and sympathize and understand me when I needed it. If you need us we'll be there!

*Thank you all very much.
Love,*

Naida

Karyn,

Thank you for making us laugh, for being such a caring, loving person and for making us so proud of all your many accomplishments. We not only love you, we like you.

The day you were born you cried and the world rejoiced, live your life so that the day you die the world cries and you rejoice.

This much and all around the world . . .

Mom, Kurt, Beth and Dave

Dear Matt,

Here you are on the verge of manhood. The accident-prone little boy with the big smile, who could always make us laugh, always looked at the bright side, always hoped for the best and was eager to suk it out.

So here you are ready to make the choices only you can make about how to live your life.

I will always be there for you when you need me. You've turned into a fine young man, and I am so proud of you. You've been both a joy and a challenge to bring up, and you've done right.

I love you Matt, better yet I like you a lot you're O.K.

Love,

Mom, Maureen, and Megan memories that last forever . . .

You guys are all the best friends I've ever had. I could never forget you. I wish you joy and happiness, but above all this I wish you love. Thanx!

Love, Lin

To the people who don't hate me when I'm mad and cheer me up when I'm sad. I will always love you guys. Thanks for all the memories we've shared and the ones we will share. I wish you all happiness in the future.

Love, Lori

I've noticed that different friends have come and gone, boyfriends also. But it always comes back to us five I've always had you four to fall back on. I love you guys.

Love, Melissa

All of you guys mean a lot to me. Thanks for always being there when I needed you most. I will never forget the memories and friendships that you all have given me, they will last me a lifetime. I love all of you!

Love, Shannon

You guys are the best. I will never forget you, not that you would let me. I hope you guys get everything out of life you want. Always keep in touch. Shan — sorry about your house. Good luck with Bob. Melissa — I love you. Lori and Linda — Remember your friends will be there a lot longer than anyone else. You guys are gonna kill me for this but — I love you Brian.

Love you guys! Jen

Alan Shaw

We all grew up together and shared so many things. You have become such a wonderful person, brother, and son. Keep striving for excellence and remember always that your kindness and friendship to others will be your footprints in the future.

Love,

Mom, Dad and Missy

Dear Shell,

May all your dreams and wishes come true. Keep a smile on your face and hope in your heart. We are very proud of you and wish you the best that life has to offer. You have brought such great joy watching you grow from a little bud to a beautiful flower. We love you and will be there for you always.

May the light you have brought into our lives continue to shine brightly in your future.

We are so very proud of you!

CONGRATULATIONS!

Love, Mom and Dad

Dearest Sandi,

A short but important part of your life is now in the past. A memory you have done wonderful things and bested some of life's hardest challenges.

As you move ahead, our hopes for you and our faith in you continue. We know you will pursue your future with the same high quality that you have shown to us and all who know and love you!

We are very proud of you!

*Love always,
Dad and Faith*

Dear Lori,

"17" And Graduating!

Where has the time gone?

It seems like just yesterday

You were entering kindergarten,

And now you're a high school

Senior. We were proud of you

Then and are very proud of you

Now. May your future be Filled with happiness and Success.

Congratulations!!

All our love —

Mom, Dad and Lisa.

SANDRA

You've brought us a bit of "SWEETNESS" and "SUNSHINE" into our lives. Now you brought us a lot of Ambition and Determination. With all these qualities, we know your dreams are within your reach. Along your way, our Love and Proudness will always be with you.

Dad, Mom, JoJo, Justin, and Matthew

Jen Ryan

Teeny,
Congratulations! May I Always be as proud of you as I am today.

Dear Elizabeth,

17 years! I can't believe they have gone by so fast. Dad and I have watched you grow into such an accomplished young woman with great pride and joy, and we know that this is just the beginning for you. Liz, your drive and dedication, your charm and cheerfulness will take you wherever you want to go. Remember, we love you and will always be here for you.

*Love,
 Mom and Dad*

Jason,

*We are as proud of who you are, as of what you have accomplished. You are a special young man and can do anything you want, set your goals and, go for it! Also remember to enjoy life along the way. Always keep in mind we are here for you earbook is an organization that requires hard work, dedication, and creativity. It is a year long commitment that starts in the summer and continues throughout the school year. We are not here to just place pictures here and copy there, but to create a book to remember our senior year and to make it our own personal history book. "Right Now" is who we are yesterday, today, and tomorrow. "Time" has been captured through words, pictures, and expressions, showing who we were, are, and will be now and forever.

This year's staff includes Liz Boucher: Editor-in-Chief, Cathy Van Houten: Art Editor, and Jeremy Lyonnais: Copy Editor. The staff also includes: Christine Telless, Jennifer Ryan, Gina Tortora, Sandi Fenelon, JoJo Fenelon, Wendy Olson, Amy Colagiovanni, Naida Rosenberger, Jenn MacIver, Shannon McGlone, and Lori Rinella. The 1993 Yearbook Staff would also like to thank other staff members who contributed to the production of the yearbook, the Senior Class, and faculty members who helped make this year's yearbook another success.

And in one final thought, we wish to congratulate the seniors on the accomplishments and wish them luck in all their future endeavors.
